Charter member Peter Sugawara, owner of Monte Bello Nursery, 1325 Fremont, Los Altos, Ca. 94022 sent this Polaroid photo of a flower of Manglietia insignis growing in a fifteen gallon container in his nursery. Pete writes: "The tree is about ten feet tall, with a three inch caliper. It was grafted by propagator Frank Chiappino on Magnolia acuminata root stock in 1969, and bloomed in 1974. Although defoliated by three days of nineteen degree temperatures in 1972, it recovered quickly. The bud was enclosed in a single sheathing bract, or 'false calyx' that curled slowly backward and dropped off just before the flower opened."
